One Goat and Thousands of Cats in the Pound

WASHINGTON.—Statistics as to stray domestic animals and their disposition by the District pound have come to light in the semi-annual report of that institution to the health department. For the greater part of the time of the

For geese the charge is 50 cents, and for all other animals except cats, two dollars. Fees collected for the half year just completed amounted to $692. Cats are collected only on request of those hav ing them in charge, and are taken to be painlessly killed. They are not even confined for a short period, but put immediately in the gas chamber, where they are asphyxiated. Officials in charge of the activities of the pound are beginning the use of traps for catching cats, but these, too, are placed on private property, and only on request. The traps are so constructed as to confine the cats in a ventilated box, and before they are placed the party making the request must sign an agreement carefully to watch the trap, to notify the pound as soon as possible after the animal is caught, and in case of delay to feed the confined feline.

Dogs, also, after being kept 48 hours in order that owners may have an opportunity to redeem them, are killed by the administration of charcoal gas. Death is painless, experts say, and is accomplished in about half a minute. In the case of cats, death takes place after about a minute.

Some dbgs enter the pound as enforced boarders, being quarantined for suspected rabies. Eighteen dogs retained for examination were returned to their owners during the last half year. Of all the other animals collected during the period, 280 were redeemed by their owners, 86 were sold, and 4,209 were turned over to the street cleaning department for disposal.

Stood Himself on Track and Did Ajax Act

CAR was whizzing toward the green hills of Virginia, not so far away. The big suburban was crowded with men, women and bundles, and everybody was happy except one passenger who weighed, say, 220 pounds-and every pound a jag. He was a noisy man, and he wanted to fight. He was so set for a scrimmage that the motorman finally accommodated him by putting him off the car. Before the hero could get back to his car and start it Mr. Milwaukee was on the track daring him to run him down. The scheme worked, and the 220 pounds worth of jag reeled aboard again.

The motorman with the valuable assistance of the conductor, put the jagman off the car eight distinct and dramatic times. And for eight distinct and dramatic times Mr. Milwaukee stood himself on the track and did the Ajax act, and-

Then a small, anemic man who had also been overzealous in his attempt to make Milwaukee famous, and who was the roisterer's companion, took a sudden virtuous zigzag notion to help out the motorman in his good work by sitting on his friend after he had been bounced from the car. You have heard about that rhythmic fly on the wheel

Well, sir, the two created such a rumpus that it attracted the attention of a passenger who had been reading his newspaper at the lower end of the car. He was as heavy a man as Milwaukee, and, what weighed more, he was as sober as that judge we do our comparing by. One look out of the window was all he needed to send him to the rescue.

"Hold on-that's my brother; I'll settle him." And he did. You bet he did! The words were not out of his mouth before he had jumped into the scene of action, flung brother Milwaukee flat on his back and was sitting astride of him-like a temperance Gambrinus straddling an intoxicated cask. "I've got him where he can't get up; start your car, old man." The motorman accepted the invitation and the car, with its crowd of men, women and various bundles, went whizzing toward the green hills of Vir-

Doesn't Believe in Taking Things Too Seriously

T HERE is one man in congress who doesn't believe in taking things too seriously. He is Representative Buck Howard of Georgia, a young man with a brilliant sense of humor. It Is No Longer a Joke to This Congressman

"H EY, Reilly, gimme a ticket for San Francisco! Here's the dollar."

So many members of the house of representatives have recently thrust this bit of wit upon the member from Connecticut that it is no longer a joke to him. It all came about through a bill that Mr.

Reilly introduced in the house "by request." The request was made by a man in his district named James L. Cowles.

Long before the parcel post was put into existence Mr. Cowles was advocating it, and so complete had the working of that system become, in his mind at least, that the amount of money required to carry a parcel from Chicago to St. Paul would carry it from New York to San Fran-

So firm was Mr. Cowles' belief in the feasibility of his scheme that he extended it to apply to the ratiroads. He advocated a flat rate for freight and passenger transportation, and his flat rate was placed at $1. This would take a passenger from Washington to Alexandria, across the Potomac river, or from Washington to San Francisco. "By request," Mr. Reilly introduced a bill in the house to help Mr. Cowles put his scheme into operation. That is as far as it has gone. And that is the reason so many members are thrusting $1 bills in Mr. Reilly's direction and asking him for tickets to San Francisco

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver and bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs" that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, irritable, feverish or the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and andigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. When its little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic-remember, a good "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask at the store for a 50cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Adv.

Youngster Undoubtedly Had Won It but There Were Other Circumstances to Consider.

It was the day after the party. Nineyear-old Robert came to his mother and said:

"Mamma, how many of those nice cut-glass ice cream dishes of yours are there exactly?"

"Twenty-four, my son." "Will you bet me that you have more than 23?"

"No. darling. Grandmother Brown gave me one dozen and Grandmother Sullivan another dozen. That makes exactly two dozen."

"All the same," persisted young Robert, "please bet me!" "Very well, I'll bet."

English Exclusiveness.

The Englishman, as everyone knows, is inclined to be individual and independent, if not exclusive. He is happy with his family in his country mansion, where a high hedge insures seclusion, and permits only the chimneys of his house to be seen from the road. He does not crave excitement and conviviality. He prefers the quiet and peace of the semi-rural suburb to the whirl of the city. He does not like to be within too easy access of the malestrom. The automobile and the train and trelley care are quite speedy enough. With his family about him, and the city and its business cares at a safe distance, the Englishman is happy.—Suburban Life.
